

THREE RIVERS AT FLOOD CAUSE MILLIONS LOSS

MISSISSIPPI, OHIO,
MISSOURI BASINS
ARE OVERFLOWINGHEAVIEST LOSSES FOR FARMERS
WHOSE LIVESTOCK WAS
DROWNEDCOLD WEATHER AND HIGH WATER
DELAYS SEEDING OPER-ATIONS

(By United Press.)
Chicago, April 15.—Following five weeks of nearly daily rain, rivers in the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri basins are overflowing today and causing millions of dollars property loss and intense suffering. Hundreds have been driven from their homes.

The heaviest loss will be suffered by farmers through the drowning of livestock and through inability to get into the fields to prepare for crops due to unseasonably cold weather.

The damage was most severe along the Illinois river where levees have given way, flooding thousands of acres of land. Beardstown, Ill., whose 8,000 population is accustomed to floods, has experienced the greatest high water loss in its history. The levee breaking at East Peoria also was threatened. The water was higher there than it has been since 1844.

Lowlands along the Indiana rivers were flooded with heavy loss to live stock and winter wheat.

Lowlands in the upper Mississippi valley also are under water with further damage threatened. Today the crucial high water marks were Winona and La Crosse. Many homes in lower La Crosse are flooded, and there was fear early today that the levee protecting Winona Lake from the river might break.

Guards were stationed along the Wisconsin rivers. Rains continued in Illinois and Indiana today.

Lowlands along the Sciota and Hocking rivers in Ohio were flooded.

Absorbing Diplomatic
Mystery in the Capital

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 15.—Washington's absorbing diplomatic mystery, Boris Bakhmeteff, ambassador, will be solved within the next few days.

Bakhmeteff will be invited to appear Monday before the senate labor committee to tell what he knows of General Seminoff, Cossack chieftain, now in jail in New York, and whom Senator Borah wants ejected from the United States as an undesirable.

Bakhmeteff, it is claimed, welcomed Seminoff with open arms when he came to Washington recently.

NOSIE CONFESSES
MURDERING RUZIC

(By United Press.)
Duluth, April 15.—Frank Nosie has made a clean breast of the murder of William Ruzic near Virginia, according to Sheriff Magie today.

Nosie was brought here from Virginia last night when a threatening mob formed and it was feared an attempt to lynch him would be made. He said he shot Ruzic from behind to secure his automobile and valuables.

He was arrested after a search lasting more than a week.

"TREATY NAVY" SIZE
CAUSES DISSENSION

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 15.—With President Harding and his leaders in congress today in a split of what the size of the "treaty navy" should be, the house met today for a showdown as to what figure the sea forces should be cut to, whether 86,000 or 67,000 men. The former is the figure urged by Harding.

Indications were the big navy advocates would win out, as they claimed two hundred pledged votes.

TERRIBLE FLOOD
CONDITIONS IN ILL.

(By United Press.)
Peoria, Ill., April 15.—Flood waters sweeping down the Illinois river, have made thousands homeless and caused damage estimated at $5,000,000.

Weakening levees protecting valuable lands along the river bed in Illinois, were giving away before the rush of water.

Families in East Peoria fled to higher ground during the night on warning that a levee protecting the district might give way at any minute releasing a twenty foot wall of water.

Railroad trains running over "rubber" tracks on a roadbed undermined by water, crept along at five miles an hour. In many places the rails were under water.

Refugees crowded schools and churches which were opened. Trucks and autos were working throughout the night carrying household belongings to higher ground. The water which has covered three-fourths of Beardstown, was still rising today. More than half of the population there was driven from their homes.

Wilson Is Inactive In Congressional Campaign

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 15.—Woodrow Wilson will take virtually no part in the congressional campaigns that follow.

This was the belief in political circles as the result of the bridge between the former president and his ex-secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, growing out of the dispute as to whether Tumulty was authorized to convey a message from Wilson to the recent Jeffersonian banquet in New York.

From forces considered close to the former president, it was learned Wilson's action in repudiating the message Tumulty gave the banquet was not taken with any design to hinder James M. Cox in 1924, or to aid McAdoo but to make it clear that he is not abandoning his determination to keep out of politics. He may get back into politics before the next presidential election, some of his friends believe. Others believe he will never run in another political race.

NORTH DAKOTA BANKS
MAKE GOOD SHOWING

(By United Press.)
Bismarck, April 15.—North Dakota bank deposits in state banks and trust companies showed an encouraging increase, state bank officials said today.

From the first of the year to March 10, bank deposits increased $2,633,000 to a total on that date of $88,121,000, according to a report which was made public. During the same period, the total reserve of these banks increased $3,265,000.

CONGRESS SOUNDED
ON RUS RECOGNITIONBELIEVED BY SOME THAT SOVIET REGIME MAY SOON GAIN
THIS

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 15.—Congress is being sounded out on its attitude toward American recognition of Russia.

Big business is doing the sounding out. This has led to the belief in some quarters at the capital that the United States government will not long delay recognition of the Soviet regime if other nations take the lead; in fact, some members of the congress think there is a possibility that the United States may take the initiative.

The sounding out process among congressmen has been going on ever since it became apparent that Russia would be represented at the Genoa conference. Letters which combine adroitly worded suggestions and inquiries have been received by a number of members of the house and senate. The letters in most cases have come from constituents of the legislators, big business men in their own states, and nearly all state the suggestion that Russia is a fertile field for American business.

ILLINOIS RIVER CAUSES
A LOSS OF $500,000

(By United Press.)
Beardstown, Ill., April 14.—Steadily rising waters from floods of the Illinois river had driven five thousand persons from their homes here today, and caused a loss of $500,000.

Following the breaking of the levee which protected the city, the water has continued rising.

More than half of the city's population has moved to higher ground, their homes being under water from one to six feet deep. Merchants' stocks suffered heavily.

BIG AND LITTLE
NAVY MEN CLASH

(By United Press.)
Washington, April 15.—The showdown between big and little navy forces loomed in the house late today.

By unanimous consent in the house, they agreed to vote on it after a four-hour debate on whether the size of the navy should be cut to 87,000 men as President Harding wants, or to 67,000 men as recommended by the house appropriations committee. This will bring the final vote about 5:30 this afternoon.

FESTIVE TROUT LURES
FISHERMAN TO STREAMS

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, April 15.—Bright sunshine today lends hope to a few hardy trout fishing bugs but chill winds made inauspicious the opening day.

The fishing rush of bait and fly fishermen was for small brooks along the Mississippi and Minnesota rivers.

They expect to take out a few brook trout—but they will soon be gone.

The best trout fishing on the north shore district will not be ripe for several weeks—probably a month.

MARY GARDEN TO RESIGN AS DIRECTOR

(By United Press.)
Chicago, April 14.—Giorgio Polacco, conductor of the Chicago Opera company, will be named director succeeding Mary Garden whose intention to resign was made public in New York recently.

If Miss Garden remains with the company, it will be merely as an artist, and she will give up all her duties as director. This will enable her to accept an offer of a quarter million dollars for a concert tour.

The retirement of Miss Garden, the first woman director of grand opera in history, after one stormy season, was induced by frequent illness, lavish expenditure of money and frequent clashes with leading stars, it was stated.

CASHIER BERGH
MAY PLEAD GUILTY

(By United Press.)
Fargo, April 15.—H. H. Bergh, former cashier of the First National bank of Tower, was expected to plead guilty in federal court this afternoon to a charge of forging securities.

Bergh was indicted by a federal grand jury following investigation of the bank late in 1920. District Attorney Hildreth conducted the prosecution. Between $40,000 and $50,000 worth of forged securities were said to have been found in the bank. They were drawn by Bergh, it is alleged.

BLOODY CLASHES ARE FEARED IN IRELAND

(By United Press.)
Dublin, April 15.—With Four Courts, one of the principal public buildings, in the hands of Irish rebels, a bloody clash between the De Valera troops and free state troops is feared when Arthur Griffith speaks at Sligo on Easter Sunday.

The Sligo free state troops are in possession of the Dail, while armed republicans have taken over the town hall, the court house, and other public buildings. In the face of this setting for a battle, Griffith is determined to go ahead with plans for attempting a free state meeting.

Condor Flies Off With Baby; Shot by Peasant

Geneva, April 15.—Seizure of a Swiss peasant's baby by a huge bird identified as a condor, is chronicled by the Oberlander Volkszeitung. The mother left the child sitting on a blanket on the grass. Her husband, seeing the condor swoop down and lift the infant into the air, shot the bird, which fell slowly, so that the youngster was only slightly injured. The condor had a wing spread of 17 feet 5 inches and a beak 16½ inches in length.

RUSSIA'S OLD DEBT
TO BE LIQUIDATEDALLIED AND RUSSIAN DELEGATES
ARE IN COMPLETE
ACCORD

(By United Press.)
Genoa, April 15.—The allied and Russian delegates to the economic conference this afternoon reached a complete agreement on the liquidation of Russia's old debt.

The Soviet delegates agreed to recognize as valid all of Russia's debts contracted previous to the war.

This is a victory for Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain who hopes to make successful conclusions of the debt transactions preliminary to recognition of Russia, and finally to an agreement whereby European nations would pledge themselves to refrain from attacking each other for a term of years.

A brief session this afternoon attended by Premier Lloyd George, Schanser of Italy, Minister Jasper of Belgium, Louis Barthou of France and George Tchitcherin, resulted in the agreement regarding Russia's debt.

The formula for an agreement was prepared anew by allied experts with Russian cooperation this morning, and at a little round table gathering with no Japanese or Roumanian delegates present, the Russian spokesman gave his consent to the pact.

SOUGHT DEATH SO AS
GUIDE HER HUSBAND
FROM SPIRIT WORLDMRS. MAUDE FANCHER KILLS HER
TWO-YEAR-OLD BABY BOY
WITH POISONATTEMPTS OWN LIFE; SAID SHE DID NOT WANT TO BE DRAG
UPON HER HUSBAND

(By United Press.)
Newark, N. J., April 15.—Medical science today battled against the will of Mrs. Maude Fancher to die that she might better guide her husband from the spirit world.

Mrs. Fancher killed her 2-year-old son by poisoning him, and attempted to take her own life by drinking lysol. She lay at the point of death in the city hospital here.

Letters written to her husband just before her attempt to kill herself explained the motive for her act.

She wrote she had felt she was a drag upon her husband, and decided to end her life that she might guide and help him to success from the spirit world. She said she was taking her baby with her because there would be no one to mother it. The letter promised that both would talk to him from the spirit world.

The body of the baby was found in its crib where the mother had placed it after giving it poison.

Porto Rico Under Fire

(By United Press.)

It has been urged on house leaders by a non-partisan group that steps are taken to settle the controversy. Proceeding will be started against Reilly. Some action will be taken very shortly, it was said, in an effort to stave off the threatened proceedings against Reilly.

EASTER

THE meaning of Easter and its message of joy, the revival of hope and the buoyant renewal of our aspiration come to an old and tired world this morning and pervade our lives even as the spring tide floods and fills the meadows with her everlasting miracle.

By AN irresistible human impulse, we seek out our finest and most fashionable raiment, and that impulse is parallel to the natural processes in the world about us. If the earth can put off her drab habiliments of winter and forget the somber, sunless hours, so can the children of earth. In every life old things may be discarded. He has not caught the spirit of the festival celebration who is not stirred to a renewal and is not moved to forsake the darkness and give welcome to the light.

It is more than a church festival. Believer and unbeliever together share the influences of the day. In each of us, whatever creed we formally profess, there dwells the feeling that the day betokens. It is the assurance that life is worth the living and that love can never lose its own. We stand today not at the brink of a tomb but on the threshold of this eternal life and of this love immortal.

Mountain of Sulphur.
By looking on a map of the South seas, one can find the New Hebrides, about 900 miles east of Queensland, Australia, and southeast of the Solomons. At the north end of the group is an island called Vanna Lava. This island is a mountain, a big one, 1,600 feet high and covering an area of 100 square miles. But the remarkable thing about it is that it is composed wholly of sulphur. Nothing like it is to be found anywhere in the world.

The first weiner roast of the season was given by the young people of the First Baptist church Thursday evening. The goal for weiners was 5 pounds, but to all accounts they went over "The Top" by getting only one pound but were well supplied with buns.

After telling stories and singing songs they hiked home.

A GOLF EDITORIAL

By OPIE READ

Taken from "Golfers Magazine," published in Chicago.

MANY an old man takes up golf just for the exercise, he says; but soon he forgets his primary object and centers his mind on the game. "I expect to live to make this course in a hundred," he says, perhaps next year. Already he has withdrawn his mind from the past and has begun to look forward. For him the future holds achievement, greatest balm of soul. Dormant muscles come again into play and, with their quickening, returns the spirit of youth. He finds that the essence of golf is not more physical than metaphysical, and more than ever he realizes the truth of Herbert Spencer's theory that the exercise we take perforce, and which does not engage the mind, does but little good. Sawing wood is exercise, but you don't see a man get out of bed at four o'clock of a morning and scrap for a chance to saw wood.

Both for the young and the old, golf is the world's great moral game. "Bill," said a young fellow to a friend, "come in and have a drink with me."

"No, thank you," Bill replied. "You see, tomorrow's Sunday and if I booze Saturday night I fall down at golf and we've got a big game on for tomorrow."

Blasphemous, yes; but would the fact that he had an engagement to attend church on the following day have kept him out of the saloon? Blasphemous again; but having bowled too industriously may induce a man to church out of repentance. Yet there are thousands of good, but I must say thoughtless, folk in this town who look on Sunday golf as immoral. Nothing is more moral than strength. The great moralists of this world have been the giants rather than the dwarfs. Why, I know men who rarely speak of God except on the golf course. I have heard them call on Diety to witness the fact that nothing on earth had ever been endowed with so devilish a spirit as a mashie.

CUTTING DOWN THE PAYROLL

THE DUTY and task of cutting down expenses has fallen upon the Harding administration, and this means the reduction of payrolls and reduced buying of supplies. It goes without saying, therefore, that the Harding administration will be unpopular in Washington, whatever may be thought of it outside. There was a storm of protest when the administration reduced work in the Navy Yard and dismissed hundreds of employees, following the Armaments Conference which agreed upon reduced naval expenditures. There has also been protest against reorganization of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, the ultimate purpose of which is to introduce methods which will make possible diminished total expenditures in proportion to results accomplished.

The Washington viewpoint naturally is largely reflected through the press, and the Senator or Congressman who makes an attack upon dismissals from the public service gets wide attention in the daily papers. However unpopular it may have been elsewhere, the Wilson administration was popular in Washington, for it made places for immense numbers in the Federal service.

The President has not been hasty in making changes in personnel. He has, in fact, been so slow as to arouse some criticism. In accordance with his life-time habit of thinking carefully before he acts and giving due consideration to all the circumstances, he has made relatively few changes in the list of public employees and these have all been made for the purpose of reducing expenses or increasing efficiency. He has not cut salaries but has endeavored to dispense with needless employees.

Cutting down the payroll finds favor among taxpayers throughout the country, even if it gets little commendation in Washington.

UNCLE SAM'S HUGE DEBT

WE BELIEVE that few people realize that the United States owes twenty-three times as much money now as it did in 1917, when the public debt was about $1,000,000,000. Attention was called to this by Eliot Wadsworth, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in a speech a few days ago before the Central States group of the Investment Bankers' Association in Chicago.

Further than this, Mr. Wadsworth declared that "we are just standing still financially, as our expenses this year just about equal our revenues. Next year there will be some deficit because of shrinking business, loss of foreign trade, and suspension of activities that came into being during the war."

Our huge debt, Mr. Wadsworth says, we must pass on to the future citizens of our country. For this reason it is the intention of financial leaders of our government to pay all new debts from current funds.

HOOVER PROMISES HELP

SECRETARY HOOVER, in an address in Washington before representatives of industrial organizations, promised government co-operation in the activities of a great majority of the big trade associations of the country. A canvass of more than 2,000 trade associations, he declared, had disclosed that only a small minority were formed on a basis contrary to law. Contact between the Commerce Department and the business of the country is only possible through the great trade associations. The foreign trade of the United States has decreased less in proportion to pre-war totals than that of any other great commercial nation, due mainly to the efforts of American business men.

The meeting was held at the Commerce Department to discuss means of furnishing trade information to the department for publication.

ACCORDING to the Census Bureau, 11 per cent of our foreign born white population ten years old and older, are unable to speak English. In Texas, New Mexico and Arizona (where more than two-thirds of the foreign white inhabitants were born in Mexico) the percentages unable to speak English are respectively 51.7, 49.4 and 51.9 per cent.

One Solid Year of Achievement

Republican Administration's Program of Construction Being Fulfilled

Congress Is Industrious

Record of Accomplishments Not Excelled in Annals of Legislation

(By Rep. Simeon D. Fess (Ohio), Chairman Republican Congressional Committee.)

The World War bequeathed to the United States, in common with every other nation gigantic debts, tremendous expenditures, burdensome taxes, disjointed economic conditions and general unrest. No previous administration since the establishment of our Government came into power with greater domestic problems demanding solution at its hands than confronted the Republican administration on March 4, 1921.

Immediately upon the inauguration of the President and his call of the special session of the Congress a program of rehabilitation was outlined and work immediately commenced to consummate it. Undesirable immigration was flooding the country. This increased unemployment, rendered more difficult a solution of our industrial problems, while the character of many of the immigrants was a menace to our social and political institutions. To protect American labor and American institutions against this invasion a law was enacted limiting further immigration to but three per cent. of the nationals already in America.

The first necessary step toward economic readjustment was necessarily reduction of expenses and balancing of the budget. One of the earliest measures enacted by the Republican Congress was the budget law. The previous Republican Congress had enacted a budget law, but it was vetoed by President Wilson. The law went into effect July 1, 1921, in time to apply to the fiscal year beginning on the same date. Whatever economies have been effected by reason of the Budget Bureau since that time are to be credited to the early action of the Republican Congress in putting the law on the books which created the Budget Bureau and made its operation possible.

The agricultural industry of the country was suffering in a degree which has never been equalled in its history. This important industry, which directly affects one-third of our population and indirectly affects every industrial, commercial and financial activity, was facing bankruptcy. In order to assist the farmer in this period of economic distress the Republican Congress enacted an elaborate program of agricultural rehabilitation. This program of constructive legislation in behalf of the American farmer is without parallel in the annals of American legislation. The substantial effects of this legislative program are now apparent on every hand.

Notwithstanding the Republican Congress elected in 1918 and assembled in special session in 1919 had appropriated hundreds of millions for ex-service men, the administration of these funds by the various executive agencies controlled by the Democrats had been such that the ex-service men had received a minimum of benefit from the funds. A large part of this was due to lack of co-ordination and co-operation of the various bureaus. One of the greatest pieces of constructive legislation of the Republican Congress was the consolidation of the various agencies dealing with the ex-service man under the one head of the Veterans Bureau. This assured expedition as well as fair and adequate treatment of our disabled ex-service men.

In addition to this consolidation and reorganization additional millions were appropriated for the use of the Bureau. American ex-service men of the World War have been better treated at the hands of the Republican Congress than the ex-service men of any previous war in American history and better treated than the ex-service men of any other nation engaged in the World War. And the end is not yet.

As an aid to the agricultural sections and as an antidote to the unemployment situation, the Congress passed at $75,000,000 appropriation bill for the construction and maintenance of improved highways, which sum will be doubled when the provisions of the bill are complied with by States putting up an equal sum of money.

Among the numerous constructive and relief measures the Majority W. was enacted in response to the demand.

CAN MAP ROCKS FROM AIR

Aviator's Co-Operation With Geologist Is Likely to Prove of Enormous Value Commercially.

The geologist of the future may use the airplane in searching for minerals in unprospected country. At the meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy in Ottawa, E. L. Bruce declared that he is enthusiastic over the possibilities of airplane mapping and that on a trip which he had been able to recognize easily the most striking geological formations.

"From the air it is possible to tell various areas by their color and by the general surface features that are characteristic of sections of country underlain by different types of rock," he said. "Granite can be distinguished from those rocks which are more favorable to the occurrence of economic minerals. Use of airplanes will relieve the geologist of a vast amount of work and would save a large part of his time. Areas of granite which are not important economically, and those areas of deep glacial cover where no rocks are exposed could be eliminated. It would thus free him for the exploration of the areas of promising rocks, and so extend the field covered by each season's operations. It would, moreover, give him an idea of the most advantageous points for inland traverses and would show him the position of inland lakes which might be of use to him in fixing the boundaries of formations."

New Tree Introduced.

There is being grown in Texas a tree new in this country, the Japanese fallow tree.

Trees of this species bear nuts, containing a rich oil-like oil that has been found valuable in the manufacture of high-grade varnishes.

The climatic and soil conditions in certain parts of Texas are well adapted to the growth of this curious tree, and the experimental gardens have been supplying farmers throughout the lower Rio Grande valley with young trees.—New York Herald.

Foods in Storage.

On February 1, this year, there were 4,302,615 barrels of apples in cold storage, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Other holdings were: Butter, 35,000,000 pounds; cheese, 32,000,000 pounds; frozen poultry, 334,000,000 pounds; meats, frozen and cured, 620,553,956 pounds; lard, 60,000,000 pounds.

OLD CHARTED TRAIL AN AID TO BOTANIST

Data on Dangerous Country in South America Found Accurate in All Details.

A cartographical trail blazed through the Bopi and Bent river country of South America forty-two years ago by Dr. Edwin R. Heath of Kansas City, South American explorer, proved of vital assistance in taking Frederick L. Hoffman of Newark, N. J., widely known botanist, on an exploring trip throughout the same country several months ago, according to a letter Dr. Heath has received from Mr. Hoffman.

The maps and other geographical data on the dangerous country as prepared by Dr. Heath and published in scientific journals a few years ago were so accurate as to excite the admiration of Mr. Hoffman, the latter said.

"No geographical matter I had with me served a better purpose, no observations were more accurate, no conclusions more impartial and no visions more prophetic than yours," the botanist wrote. "I followed as nearly as possible your methods, keeping account of my journey from hour to hour, but making the trip down the river (Bopi), while your journey was made in the reverse direction. I found a number of minor omissions, misspellings, etc., but the little map appended to your paper in the Geographic Journal was priceless and literally worn to shreds by the time I reached Riberaita."

The letter mentioned visits to many places Dr. Heath recalled having seen on his trips.

Although eighty-three years old, Dr. Heath retains intense interest in scientific investigation of South America. He is at present consul in the United States for Guatemala, Honduras, Bolivia and Nicaragua.

A fellow in the Royal Geographic society and the recipient of honors from many scientific organizations Dr. Heath is perhaps most proud of the fact that one of the great rivers of South America bears his name. It is a tributary of the Madre de Dios. He discovered the Madre de Dios river on his trip in 1880. The River Heath forms part of the boundary between Bolivia and Peru.

SPLENDID PROGRESS SHOWN

Teams Report on Ticket Selling Campaign of Business and Professional Women's Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Business & Professional Women's club was held Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce, a large number being present. Following the reading of the minutes of March 14th and April 4th, a report from the treasurer was given and all bills allowed.

The president, Harriet Engsborg, announced that the membership cards from the National Federation were here and that those paid up members who had not received theirs were to call at her office at the court house and secure them.

Maybelle Grewcock gave an interesting report on the progress of the selling force for the benefit pictures and it is hoped that even a more gratifying report will be possible the end of the week. Islay McColl, as colonel, had the team selling the most tickets, the team being headed by Dorothy Carmichael as captain, who was also the girl who had sold the most tickets individually. Marie Adair's team was next high, her captain, Mrs. Kracher, selling the most tickets.

Other teams showed splendid progress, through the absence of the teachers from the selling force this week made an appreciable difference. The proposition of this plan of selling is a big one, but if all the members enter into the spirit of the thing, and display as much enthusiasm as has been shown by some of the members, success is an assured fact. Some persons of skeptical minds seem to think it will be a difficult matter to sell the amount of tickets desired, but it has been done with great success in other cities and what others can do surely Brainerd can duplicate. Now let's all get together and put this proposition over with a rush!

A Banquet at the Ransford
A National Federation club pin will be offered by the club to the girl selling the greatest number of tickets for the benefit performances. These emblem pins are artistic and lovely, and the girl who secures this prize will indeed be lucky. The Vitagraph company is to give a banquet to the winning team and its colonel, also including the executive committee, which consists of the officers of the club. This is to be a "regular" banquet, with everything from "soup to nuts," so each team will surely strive to be the winner. The colonel who instills her teams with the most enthusiasm will be the one to sit with her feet under the table of the winning team. Do we eat? Well, rather! That is—some of us will!

The matter of permanent club rooms was discussed, and though several suggestions were made, no definite action was taken other than a motion to have a committee appointed to arrange for the use of the Chamber of Commerce for the regular meetings one a month, and the extension of the lease of the present club rooms from month to month until larger quarters may be secured.

A motion was made that a program committee be appointed to provide some sort of program to be used after the business meetings are concluded. The April entertainment committee will give its entertainment soon after Easter, several interesting things being planned, according to the chairman Mable Sheffield. The March entertainment committee will take charge of the tea to be given the rural teachers when they convene here next week, open house being kept for them on Friday and Saturday at the club rooms in the Lyceum building.

Something for Brainerd
Miss Engsborg, the president, gave an interesting talk on the aims and aspirations of the club, and suggested that they do some definite thing for the betterment of Brainerd, perhaps along the line of beautifying the city, the idea being presented that the club direct its efforts toward a bigger and better Brainerd. This suggestion was received with much approval by the members, who pledged their support toward any movement that would make Brainerd a more beautiful and more livable city.

A letter to the corresponding secretary, Pearl Falconer, was read, in which Mary Cutler, of Minneapolis, outlined a pageant given by the Rockford Women's club, Rockford, Ill., and which she thought might be given in Brainerd. It was decided that as a home talent was now desired by the committee in charge of the Fiftieth Anniversary, it would not be advisable for the club to consider the matter at this time. A suggestion was made, however, that information be obtained regarding the pageant, so that if at any future time the club might wish to do something of this kind, necessary details would be available.

The club adjourned until next meeting, which will be the second Tuesday in May, at which time will be held the election of officers, the fiscal year beginning in May.

OAK LAWN MAN WOUNDED BY BANDIT

Mrs. Angus Murray of Oak Lawn township, a former neighbor of Mrs. Ottillia Keough and family, has received details of the pistol duel in which George Keough of Peoria, Ill., was seriously wounded on Thursday of last week. Summed up the information is:

George Keough and a fellow watchman employed by a railroad in Peoria were attempting to prevent bandits from breaking into a car. Shots were exchanged between the watchmen and bandits. One shot struck Keough in his left leg between the hip and knee and a second entered his right side and the bullet imbedded in his back near the spine.

He was not found for some time and lost considerable blood. An operation for removal of his appendix, which was ruptured by the bullet, was performed. Another operation to locate and remove the bullet from the body will be required. Owing to the weakened condition of Keough, due to loss of blood, it will not be possible to operate upon him for about 10 days, physicians state.

Mamie, Helen and Ed Keough are with him in Peoria.

John D. and Pres. Harding Miss Meeting by 10 Minutes

When asked to pose for this picture recently, taken at the Ormond, Fla., golf links, John D. Rockefeller laughingly asked why the photographers troubled him when President Harding was playing on the same course.

Meeting Severe Tests of Service

THE dominating idea which has sustained those guiding the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is expressed in a series of products which have met successfully the severe test of sustained service.

The Directors of this Company, realizing that petroleum products are essential to the welfare of the community, are striving constantly to achieve an ideal of practical perfection in every product manufactured and sold by this Company.

The result is, that wherever strains are severest, wherever the need is most intense, there will be found products, devised by the experts of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), to meet the conditions and relieve the situation.

As an example of a product, which bears up under rather spectacular service tests, take Fortnite Long Time Burner Oil for railway signal lamps. Every traveler on the railroad realizes the vital importance of dependable signals. This dependability rests to a large degree upon the quality of oil used in the lamps. It has been found that wherever conditions are particularly severe Fortnite Long Time Burner Oil has delivered highly satisfactory service.

The same ideal of perfection applies to every one of the long list of petroleum products manufactured by this Company, whether the demand for them be large or small. Each of these products has a record of reliability. Each is made to meet the highest standard of quality and this quality is maintained.

This ideal of service to meet severe tests is one basis upon which to estimate the value to the community of the service rendered by this Company.

AMUSEMENTS

Bill Fairbanks at Lyceum Tonight
Miss Violet Schram, who plays the part of the village school teacher in "Hell's Border," a Bill Fairbanks picture at the Lyceum tonight, is one of the promising young feminine leads. While Miss Schram is still in her teens she has already played many prominent parts in several successful plays. She has worked with Dustin Farnum in "Big Happiness," in Zane Grey's "Riders of the Dawn," and many others including Tom Santschi's western series.

William Farnum at Lyceum
"Perjury," a William Fox special production presenting William Farnum in a role which is said to make supreme demands upon his dramatic genius, will begin a two day run at the Lyceum theatre next Monday. The production enjoyed a special run in a Broadway, New York, theatre, where it created a sensation. Metropolitan reviewers declared it one of the most intense human interest dramas ever seen on the screen.

The story of "Perjury" requires the famous screen star to display varying emotions of tremendous intensity

"PERJURY"
WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION.
The hero, Robert Moore, appears first as a strong and successful man of 45 years, manager of a large factory, and a happy husband and father, genial and cheerful. From this he is transformed by suspicion and jealousy in to a person in unceasing torment. Red rage flares in his mind, and then comes despair, followed by submissiveness as prison doors close upon him for twenty years.

Through the long term in prison Robert develops a kindness and saintliness of character which endear him to the wardens and guards. The scene in which the prematurely aged convict leaves the prison, and those immediately following are said to be the most touching portrayals ever given by William Farnum.

theatre next Wednesday for a two days' run. Metropolitan critics described the picture as a marvel of beauty, color and dramatic force, and as a spectacle unsurpassed in magnificence. All wrote with wondering approval of the pageantry attending the arrival of the Queen of Sheba at King Solomon's court, and declared the chariot race cheered by 5,000 spectators to be one of the most thrilling scenes ever shown on the screen.

"Bat" Draws Great Crowds

By no means the least interesting thing about the coming performance here of "The Bat," the biggest dramatic hit in years which Wagenhals and Kemper will present at the New Park theatre on April 20th, will be the audiences. This is written in advance but past experiences justify the assertion over and over.

"The Bat," it should be remembered has played for more than a year in New York—and it is still playing. In addition, another company in "The Bat" broke every existing theatrical record for Chicago by playing in that city to extraordinary business for one entire year. That is why it is possible to state with every feeling of confidence what will happen when this remarkable play is seen here. Human nature is much the same the world over and it is only permissible to believe that what happened in New York and Chicago time and again will happen right here in this city.

One often witnesses tense moments in the theatre. Everyone seemingly sits breathless for a brief space of time. But "The Bat" holds a record that no play or film ever has equaled or possibly, ever will equal, for from the time the curtain is lifted on the first act until it is lowered on the last, every person in the audience is on edge, the emotional strain being broken only now and again when some particularly humorous line is shot across the footlights with the speed of an arrow.

Pauline Starke as "Salvation Nell"

Fifteen Real Stars

There have been all-star casts before in motion pictures, but it is doubtful whether any more important group of players has ever been assembled for a single production than the one that presents William Christy Cabanne's big R-C drama, "Beyond the Rainbow." More than a dozen prominent actors and actresses take part. For the most part they are players who have been before the public on stage and screen for several years and all number their personal followings in thousands.

"Beyond the Rainbow" at the New Park theatre last time tonight.

"The Scoffer"

According to all pre-view reports the story unfolded in "The Scoffer," Allan Dwan's latest contribution to the screen, is one of the most tremendously human of recent productions and the momentum with which the series of exceedingly interesting incidents move forward is described as

"an avalanche of life's truest truisms so presented as to entertain royally." This photoplay is booked for a showing at the New Park theatre on Monday and Tuesday, and there can be little doubt as to the film's popularity here since this community contains its full quota of real lovers of the human side of life.

Specially Selected Pictures

Those who object to indiscriminate theatre-going for fear they may strike some picture that might either offend the artistic eye or have some version of the "eternal triangle," with its sex appeal, will be glad of the opportunity to view the four pictures selected by a committee from the Business & Professional Women's club, soon to be shown here under the auspices of this club.

These pictures are widely different in theme, yet all have one thing in common, clean, wholesome entertainment for healthy minds. "The Son of Wallingford," a typical American play full of high-handed Yankee methods of exploitation, and "Her Lord and Master," an English play of society life in which the contrast between easy-going life of the West and the conservative ethics of British aristocracy form the basis of a brilliant photoplay, bear no resemblance except cleanliness of production.

Just as wide a gulf of style separates the remaining two—"Flower of the North" and "Peggy Put It Over." "Flower of the North" is a thrilling romance of the Canadian Northlands, in which is told an intensely human story filmed against a background of scenic beauty and interpreted by real action. The story is woven about a girl who has grown to womanhood at the Fort O'God, where the wild flower of the wilderness is strongly blended with the courtly atmosphere of old France.

In striking contrast is "Peggy Put It Over," a story of a young girl, a graduate from an institute of technology, if you please, who got busy and woke up a sleepy town to its own possibilities. "We must proceed with tact," protested David. Peggy grunted. "I disagree! We must start off with a bang! When they come to, the work will all be done." So says Peggy, and she keeps it up, too.

Though most of it is written in a light comedy vein, there are, however, many serious moments in it which afford Alice Calhoun opportunities to display her unusual abilities as an emotional actress. This film will entertain the whole family. It is a clean, wholesome story of life as it exists in a small town where the inhabitants need waking up.

All members of the family should have club tickets to these pictures, for there isn't a doubt you will all want to go when the time comes, and by purchasing tickets from the members of the Business & Professional Women's club, you will be aiding them, while securing an exceptionally fine showing of special pictures with added musical and dramatic features, all at a price lower than is usually charged for pictures of ordinary merit. The price is but $1.00 for all pictures, including special features, if purchased by the club plan. Otherwise the cost will be $1.40, the box office price.

IDEA IN SPRING MILLINERY

CLASSIC LINES IN NEW GOWNS

Waist and Skirt Seem Made in One, Falling to Long, Slim Train on One Side.

At this dull season of the dressmaking year, when one wants something new, but not too elaborate, to give a little flick to the wardrobe, a new idea is a boon. The originator of the petal frock has finally abandoned the petal theme, upon which she played limitless variations, and is devoting herself to a new idea—the Greek gown. This type of dress is so utterly simple that one holds one's breath a moment to see how the trick is done—how the wearer attains so much stateliness and distinction with so little means. There is no trimming—not a bead—no intricacy of line. A loose blouse, sleeveless, is slit straight across for the head to slip through, and a skirt lifted in a single line of drapery that exhibits the mastery of the designer. Whatever it is, it has the trick. Waist and skirt seem made in one, falling to a long, slim train on one side, and giving, as the Vionnet masterpieces always have, extraordinary slowness and height to the wearer. It is notable that these models, like many evening gowns and not a few afternoon dresses, are very long—ankle length, not to mention the train.—Harper's Bazar.

Destructive Volcanic Outburst.
Rising to a height of 13,000 feet, only a few miles from Kilauea, is the great volcano of Mauna Loa, which has intermittent eruptions, the last one of great violence beginning in October, 1919, and continuing for five months, the flow coming from a split in the mountain far down upon its flank. The black rolls of treacle lava flowed for miles through the sand flats, forests and bare rock slopes, finally emptying into the sea, where giant clouds of steam rose day and night. Myriads of sea fish were killed by the boiling water.

Original "Rivals."

A rival was originally any person who used the same stream. As experience shows, there is no such fruitful source of contention as a water-right. Neighbors would be often at strife with one another in regard of the period during which they severally had a right to the use of the stream; turning it off into their own fields before the time; leaving open the sluices beyond the time; or in other ways interfering with the rights of each other. So it was that "rivals" came to be applied to any who were in competition with one another.

Trial by Ordeal.

Trial by ordeal still exists in some parts of Japan. If a theft takes place in a household, all the servants are required to write a certain word with the same brush. The conscience is supposed to betray its workings in the waves of the ideographs written. Tracing an ideograph involves such an effort of muscular directness and undivided attention that this device often leads to the discovery of the guilty party. The test is, at all events, more humane than the ordeal of boiling water, to which accused persons were formerly submitted in Japan.

POLICE WORK ON TWO NEW CLUES

WOMAN FURNISHES NEW TIP

Mrs. H. N. Kramer Says She Saw a Man and Car Near Interstate Bridge Early Tuesday

The Duluth News Tribune gives this report on further developments in the Edward Levant mystery case: "Two men who were with Edward Levant in Superior at the party preceding his death from gun wounds Tuesday, will be questioned this morning by Duluth and Superior police. Names of the men were furnished by Sid Riches Jr., and H. L. Doty, also members of the party, who were detained by the police until Wednesday. The question of whether Levant was murdered or committed suicide remains unanswered.

"That a man wearing clothes fitting the description of apparel worn by Levant was seen near the water's edge at 8:15 a. m. Tuesday was the information given to the police by Mrs. H. N. Kramer, 823 North Fifty-seventh avenue West. She is employed at a Superior store and was in the street car on her way to work at the time she saw the man.

Stood Near Water

"I was riding to Superior on the street car at the time I saw the man," Mrs. Kramer said. "As the car was going up the bridge approach I saw the man standing near the edge of the water near a boat. The man turned and looked at the street car and walked toward what looked like an old boat lying out of the water. He was walking in the same direction as the street car crossed the bridge.

"The man wore a soft hat and what looked like a long, black overcoat. He was standing there alone. He was of medium build."

Mrs. Kramer also explained that she saw an automobile parked on the premises between Garfield avenue and the bay a little east and back of where the man stood.

First and opening game will be at St. Cloud against the Granite City team. Arrangements are completed and unless rain prevents the Brainerd club will leave here prepared to win.

Brainerd will be represented this season by an all home team. No funds will be paid for salaries and if there is a balance on hand at the end of the season the players will share in the net proceeds.

Clyde E. Parker, who was elected as the secretary-treasurer, will be home Saturday night and will next week get started on a campaign for financing the club.

A grandstand will have to be erected and the grounds fenced and ready. All business men, shop men and baseball fans should be behind the club and boost for the team which represents their city.

There are a number of new players in the city and will be out at the first call for practice, including Emerson who played with Alexandria; Winslow played last in the South Dakota league; Lund, who played formerly with Oak Lawn and semi-pro teams of Chicago; Jack Lease played with Owatonna.

If the fans and backers are behind the club this season the team will do its part and endeavor to win at least a majority of the games played. A committee will be at the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to urge that organization to assist in putting baseball on a sound foundation in Brainerd.

Games are to be arranged with Little Falls, St. Cloud, Staples, Park Rapids, International Falls, Wadena, Foley, Aitkin, Long Prairie, Verndale and other towns in this vicinity.

The Brainerd baseball team has been called to practice Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the South Sixth street grounds. Players will meet at the Smacker pool room.

20,000 Deer Killed in Minnesota
St. Paul, April 14.—Hunters killed more than 20,000 deer in Minnesota last fall, according to Carlos Avery, state game and fish warden. In the last three years approximately 56,000 deer have been killed in this state.

"In spite of the increased number of refugees and other protective measures the deer herd is decreasing rapidly," Avery said. "Refugees serve to prevent extermination but continuation of the present policy will undoubtedly reduce the supply in all country open to hunting."

The enactment of a buck law might help a great deal in preventing extermination of Minnesota's deer herd, he intimates.

SCHUMANN CHORUS TO SING APRIL 24

High School Junior and Senior Girls Will Present a Cantata at New Park Theatre

"THE GARDEN OF FLOWERS"

First Number of Same is "The Morn". Next Comes "Summer Breezes" Then "Snow White" Operetta

The Schumann chorus of the high school, comprised of only Junior and Senior girls will present a cantata on the evening of April 24th at the New Park theatre.

The cantata is "The Garden of Flowers" by L. Donza. The entire number is in a light vein with exceedingly beautiful little melodies woven in.

The first number in the cantata is a chorus "The Morn." It is brilliant and joyful with the happiness of the early morning. The next chorus number is "Summer Breezes." This number is so full of the sweeping words that it makes one really feel summer breezes here. "The Garden of Flowers" is the name of the last part of the cantata, sung by the whole chorus. It is deeply philosophical in tone and concisely summarized the thoughts expressed in the other numbers.

These choruses are interspersed with solos, duets, trios and quartets, sung by girls chosen from the chorus. They are equally interesting. The voices chosen are all exceptionally fine ones; such as Brainerd can be proud to possess among her young people.

At the close of the cantata, the operetta "Snow White" will be given. The heaviest roles are carried by high school students. The choruses are entirely of grade students.

It is hoped a large audience will take advantage of these musical treats. Tickets may be procured from Miss Opsahl or Miss Scott.

2ND ANNUAL BALL OF UNITY LODGE

Odd Fellows and Friends to Have Social Function at Elks Hall Monday, April 24

THE INVITATIONS ARE ISSUED

Able Committee in Charge Includes Oscar Risberg, Robert Elder, Frank Cater, Andre Peterson

The second annual ball of Unity Lodge No. 194 I. O. O. F. will be given this year on Monday evening, April 24 at the Elks hall in the Citizens State Bank building.

Invitations are being issued and will go into the mails this coming week. Committees have been working during the past weeks making arrangements for this event and all preparations are about completed. It will be remembered that the ball given by this lodge last year, which was the first ball given for many years, was a grand success in every way, the dancing hall being taxed to the very limit and a delightful evening was enjoyed by all.

It is understood the dance this year will be given along the same lines and restrictions as last season. Admittance will be by invitations. Tickets will be one dollar including tax.

A very able committee has charge of this event, being Oscar Risberg of the city police force, Robert Elder, Standard Oil, and Frank Cater and Andre Peterson of the Peoples Supply store. Surely no thing but good results will come from the workings of this bunch of hustlers.

Congress Goes to Aid of Agricultural Industry

List of More Important Measures Written,
Introduced and Passed by Republicans
To Assist Farmers During Crisis

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE J. N. TINCHER (KAN-SAS), MEMBER HOUSE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE

Farmers of the United States not only comprise the largest single class of producers but they are the largest single class of consumers of finished products of all kinds, and the largest class of shippers. In view of all this, it is essential, in order that the country as a whole be prosperous, that the farmer as a class be prosperous.

When the Republican Party came into power in March, 1921, the agricultural sections of the country were in the midst of the greatest depression they had ever experienced.

In response to a general demand from the agricultural interests the Republican Congress, on May 27, 1921, 40 days after the session convened, enacted the Emergency, or Farmers' Tariff. This stopped at once the influx of agricultural imports and saved to the American farm producer his home markets.

The best proof that the tariff really protects the American farmer is the fact that since its operation Canada has renewed her efforts to negotiate a reciprocity treaty that will admit her agricultural products into this country free. As a further proof of the effectiveness of this tariff it was renewed November 16, 1921, by the solid vote of the congressmen representing the agricultural States. The enactment of this tariff was opposed by the solid Democratic minority in both House and Senate, with a few notable exceptions.

For more than a quarter of a century there has been a demand from the producers and consumers for control of the packing and allied industries. Responsive to this demand Congress enacted such a law. It cannot be gained that the live-stock industry of the United States has had better treatment from the very day that this law began to operate. This bill was drawn by Republicans, introduced in both branches of Congress by Republicans, and passed by both branches of Congress controlled by Republicans.

For more than 40 years there has been pending before Congress, in one form or another, legislation to control grain exchanges and to stop the manipulation of prices of farm products. Such a law has been enacted by this Republican Congress. Like the packer control law, it was written by Republicans, introduced by Republicans and passed by Republican majorities.

One of the immediate and urgent needs of the farming communities was credit to tide them over their immediate crisis. In order to furnish this credit the Republican Congress amended the War Finance Corporation Act so as to enable that organization to have a revolving fund of $1,000,000,000 to be used exclusively in making loans to live-stock and agricultural interests. Since that body began functioning under its newly acquired powers it has been loaning money to the agricultural and live-stock interests of the United States at a rate in excess of $1,000,000 a day.

One of the earliest acts of this Congress was the appropriation of $2,000,000 to be used in the purchase of seed for the drought-stricken farmers of the northwest. Since that time legislation and appropriations have been made to assist drought-stricken farmers in other sections of the country, and also to relieve the settlers upon reclamation and irrigation projects.

Still another act of this Congress was the increase of the available capital of the Farm Loan Banks in the sum of $25,000,000, giving the Farm Loan Banks a total revolving fund of $56,000,000. This bill was written by Republicans, introduced by Republicans and passed by Republican majorities in both branches of Congress.

Modern methods in the commercial world have demonstrated the necessity of the farmer's being permitted to sell his crops under a co-operative system, and that this might be done legally and without interference or irritation, the present Congress enacted the Cooperative Marketing Bill. This is another bill written by Republicans, introduced in both branches of Congress by Republicans and passed by Republican majorities.

Honorable Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, truly summed it up when he said:

"Never in the same length of time did Congress give more serious attention to farm needs. All of the legislation is of a constructive character and will be more helpful than is now realized."

3 MEN HOLD UP MOTORCYCLE COP

(By United Press.)
Wauwatosa, Wis., April 15.—While Arthur Siegel, motorcycle policeman, patrolling his beat here this morning, unexpectedly encountered three highwaymen who held him up at point of revolvers, and rifled his pockets. After finding nothing, they made their escape without difficulty as Siegel had left his pistol at home.

Takes "Short Jump" Crushed by Boulder

(By United Press.)
Duluth, April 15.—A heavy boulder, loosened by spring rains, was dislodged when Clifford Olson, 10, made a leap from it. The boulder hurled him and crushed him to death. The boy had been watching the Boy Scouts taking what is known as the "short jump." He was an orphan and had been in the children's home for four years.

Monticello Teachers Re-elected
Monticello, April 15.—The school board at its meeting re-elected all teachers employed here last year without salary reduction. Superintendent Schwartz was re-elected to a three year term at an annual salary of $2,600 a year.

Eight at Morris Seek to be Sheriff
Morris, April 15.—With eight candidates filed for the office of county sheriff and five for the office of county superintendent of schools, the primary race for those two county offices promises to be a warm one this year.

Bowling Is Old Diversion.
Bowling once was forbidden by law. The game was originally nine-pins, and was called "close," the definition being given as: "Close, the game at nine-pins; forbidden by statute, anno 17 Edw. IV." The prohibition was afterward withdrawn and the game became very popular. It was once also a popular gambling game in the United States and in some states was prohibited by law. The law was evaded by adding another pin and calling it ten-pins.

Kissing in China.
Women in China never kiss, and when a Chinese woman wishes to show her affection she gently touches the hand of her beloved.

Unnecessary.
A congregation of negroes was used to hearing sermons that harped continually on hell and eternal punishment. One hot summer day the preacher made no mention of hell. One of the congregation asked him why he had omitted it. "Everything in season," he replied. "De thahmometah wuz at ninety-foh while I wuz a-preachin' dat sthmon. Hell spoke foh itself, I reckon."

Good "Grain" Results.
Artificial "graining" of wood has been practiced for a long time and some of the results obtained by the modern methods of printing from a master roll of real wood are remarkably realistic, says the American Forestry Magazine. Through this means it is possible to impart a good imitation of mahogany to plain, colorless woods and to metals.

During a hurricane in the West Indies the tank steamship Philip Publicker, carrying molasses in bulk, pumped overboard 280,000 gallons of the liquid to smooth off the seas and break their force. The action of the molasses on the water seemed to have the same effect as oil.—Ship News.

HAREM REVIVED, RESULT OF WAR

Strife Furnishes Girls for Slave
Market in Turkey.

ARE SMUGGLED INTO TURKEY

Pretty Captives of Turkish Soldiers Often Sold for $150 or $2 Where Put Up for Sale in Places Where Auctions Take Place—If Turks Had Faithfully Carried Out Armistice Agreement Many Girls Would Have Been Saved From Harem Life.

War has resulted in the revival of harems in Turkey. Armed strife is furnishing girls, too terrified to protest against harem life, who can be bought from the soldiery, who hold them captive, for as low as $150 and $2 each. The man who couldn't afford to buy a harem ten years ago can afford what he pleases now.

Asia Minor has become known as the Twentieth Century slave market. The battlefields are the auction block to which women are brought for bartering among the victorious soldiery. The country's devastated towns along the shores of the Black Sea and down into the provinces of Angora are being used by slave dealers to carry on their trade.

Harems Filled to Overflowing.

The population of the harems has been swelled in the last few years through the demoralization of the Armenian girls as a result of the looting of the villages by the Turkish soldiery. Girls who would never have gone into the harems had the family been held intact, have drifted into them from the ruined districts around the Black Sea, from Samzoun, Batum, and Tiflitz. Their lives were ruined, their resistance broken.

Turks living in lower Anatolia have filled their harems to overflowing with these young women, whom they were able to buy from the soldiery for a handful of coins. Thus the war has enabled the country Turk to start the habit of harem life all over again, just at a time when decreasing affluence and public opinion were mitigating it.

Most of the women in the harems are young. A large part of them are smuggled into the country for deliberate selling. The Turkish girls who marry into the harems do so usually with their parents' consent, although knowing that they will share their husbands with other wives. Other harem inmates for the most part are not consulted.

On the signing of the armistice all prisoners of war were supposed to be handed over to the Allied governments. Had this agreement been carried out faithfully many girls would have been saved from harem life. The Turks, however, have found ways to conceal their trafficking in girls. The famous bride school at Samzoun is a significant example of their cleverness at concealment.

Girls' School Mere Blind.
This "school" was housed in an old gray convent, on the edge of the town of Samzoun, on the Black Sea. It had been a home for beautiful nuns in the past, for the women of Samzoun are all very beautiful. After the Turks took possession of the town the convent was used for those lovely Georgian and Armenian girls whom the officers fancied were worth more than the average captives.

The girls were gathered at the old convent where the officers guarding them said they were to be put in school. The girls believed this until they noticed they were being brought down in groups from their sleeping quarters, where they were kept guarded all day, to stand before officers and merchants, rich farmers and wealthy Pashas. Then one, perhaps two, of the girls would be taken from the convent the next morning.

Sometimes a girl's entry into the harem is accompanied by the old fashioned details of a Turkish wedding but, for the most part, she is taken to her new home like a new domestic animal bought at market. For she is, like them, meant for work.

WOLVES PROVE MENACE

These Animals Are a Plague to Mail
Plane Pilots.

Pilot P. P. Scott of the air mail service, who landed in the hills 20 miles from Elko, Nev., recently when the engine of his plane threw a connecting rod and he was forced to walk for 11 hours through a snowstorm before reaching Elko, is now carrying a 45-calibre pistol when making flights.

A pack of wolves which followed 500 yards behind the pilot as he tramped from the desolate mountain country in which he landed to the Nevada city caused him considerable uneasiness, and he says that he will not take any more chances, in the event of another forced landing.

Despite the severe test to which the pilot was put in the accident, he did not lose one day in mail flying. While his hike through the snowstorm was long and tiresome, he was back on the job Friday and made his regular trip into Salt Lake. He made the regular mail flight from Salt Lake to Elko.
